

'Transatlantic Policing: A Caribbean Island Perspective'

'Transatlantic Policing: A Caribbean Island Perspective' is the title of the public seminar being hosted by the Department of Government at the University of the West Indies, Mona on Tuesday, May 20 at 6 pm at SR16. Benjamin Bowling, Professor of Criminology and Criminal Justice at King's College, London will deliver the lecture.

The university community and the public are invited to attend. Kindly RSVP, Dr. Suzette Haughton at sue72jm@yahoo.co.uk.