UPGRADE YOURSELF!

Pursue a BSc in
Public Policy and Management

The Public Policy and Management Undergraduate Degree Programme provides students with sound knowledge and understanding about the processes of government as well as government’s interface with local, regional and international partners such as the private sector, governmental and nongovernmental organizations. The BSc in PPM equips students with skills and competencies required by the modern public sector or public services organisation. At the end of the programme students should be able to undertake managerial and administrative functions; formulate, implement, and evaluate legislation, policies, and programmes, and apply conceptual and theoretical knowledge to the process of development.
