

Mary Seacole Programmes

The First Year Experience Programme

The First Year Experience (FYE) programme is a best practice in higher education globally. It was established at Mona and within Mary Seacole Hall to ease the transition for first time students into university life. The FYE addresses issues of self and identity, time management and strategic learning as well as adjusting to living with others, becoming independent and responsible adults.

The Second Year Programme

The Second-Year Programme is planned specifically for second year students on the Mary Seacole Hall. It incorporates the needs of students at this level, our knowledge of how they interact and their responsibilities as residents and citizens. The activities in the Second Year Programme will see students engaging in activities to stimulate their physical and mental health, outreach and civic duties by hosting an IDEVAW activity (virtual Clothesline Project), and academic support.

The Third Year (TYP) Programme:

TYP is designed especially for final year students. Its aim is to prepare women for life after UWI and seeks to enforce the University's mission of producing well rounded graduates. The program provides our students with skills essential for the world of work and those that are pertinent to landing a good job. These include business etiquette, money management, interpersonal learning, emotional intelligence and leadership and the development of entrepreneurial skills. Students also have the opportunity to attend conferences and seminars throughout the year.

Resident Advisors along with the SSDM work closely with these students on creating their own personal objectives at the start of the program. These objectives are then explored and refined where necessary with the assigned resident advisor during the year.

Academic Enhancement Programme & Honor Society

The Academic Enhancement Programme is designed to promote academic excellence through supportive services for students at all levels of academic life. Students enrolled in the programme receive support through peer tutoring, mentoring, exam review sessions and workshops focusing on how to manage stress, study and relaxation techniques and critical thinking and reasoning. Students who achieve a GPA of 3.6 and above are inducted into the honor society and participate in post graduate scholarship preparation.

The Angela King Leadership Academy

The Leadership Academy is a direct response to the need for more women to participate in leadership and decision-making globally. The Angela King Leadership Academy seeks to foster growth through advocacy, representation and service of second and third year students. Through reflective sessions, seminars, workshops and discussions, the Angela King Leadership Academy aims to harness the potential and passion of young leaders on Mary Seacole Hall towards achieving their fullest potential as a leader.

Mary Seacole Hall Sister-Sister in Reach Programme

This fund was set up in 2005 to assist students in financial need. At that time, the fund gave small loans to students to purchase books or food. In the 2007/08 academic year, the fund started a food basket; which assisted Seacolites who are in immediate need. The fund is monitored by the Student Services & Development Manager but operated by a committee of students. These students conduct fund raising activities to keep the fund going.
