5th Annual Symposium on
Law, Governance and Society

‘The Triple “R” Strategy: Rights, Remedies and Reputation’

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 2019 — SUNDAY, JUNE 30, 2019
Meliá Braco Village, Trelawny

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To say we live in a global village is no longer a desired outcome but a daily reality. The rapid pace of technological development in particular, has erased geographical boundaries and shifted paradigms about the way we live, learn and earn. Our societies continue to evolve and to examine the ways in which we structure markets, frame politics and set the agenda for societal affairs.

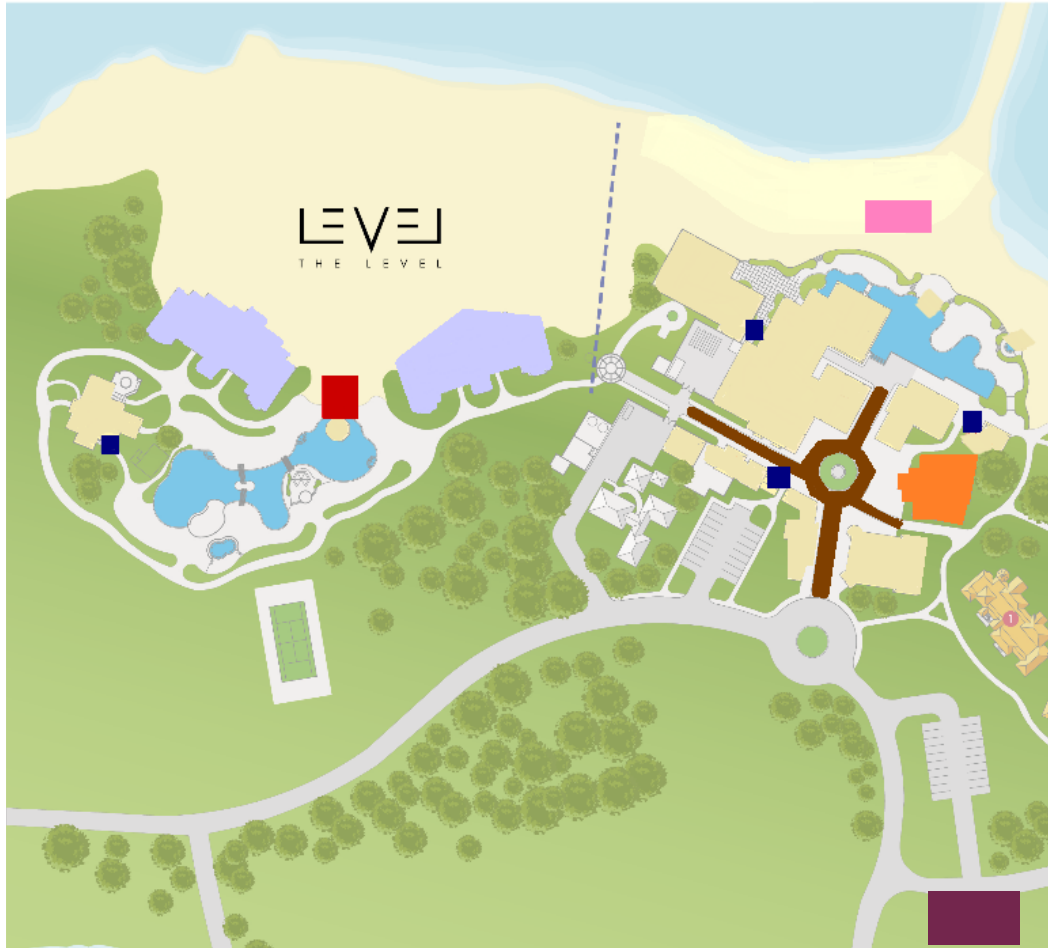

The relevance of our laws and general legal discourse has never been more critical at any time in our history than the present as we seek to maintain our status as a sovereign state in this modern era. It is on that note that I commend the visionaries who founded the Annual Symposium on Law, Governance and Society, now in its fifth staging under the theme ‘The Triple “R” Strategy: Rights, Remedies and Reputation’.

The University of the West Indies, Mona Campus celebrates the Mona Law Faculty as a full-fledged institution of excellence serving Jamaica and the region. Mona Law has and continues to serve as an effective incubator for our brightest and best minds who are exposed to a wide range of dynamic and relevant programmes. Congratulations to the symposium planning team and all the various partners who continue to support the growth of this annual event which provides a truly rewarding intellectual experience and rich collegial atmosphere.

Best wishes for a successful 2019 Symposium.

Professor Dale Webber
Pro Vice-Chancellor & Principal
The University of the West Indies, Mona
