2008 Fulbright/LASPAU (Latin American Scholarship Program of American Universities) Faculty Development Program

The Office of Sponsored Research would like to bring to your attention the 2008 Fulbright/LASPAU (Latin American Scholarship Program of American Universities) Faculty Development Program, sponsored by the U.S. Department of State’s Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. Scholarships are available for full-time lecturers at tertiary level institutions in Jamaica to undertake master’s- or doctoral-level study at U.S. universities beginning in August/September, 2008.

Application forms may be located at the following website:

http://www.laspau.harvard.edu/fbapp/

username: fbapp
password: education

All applicants need to complete the online application. This will allow officials at the Office of Public Affairs of the U.S. Embassy, the U.S. Department of state, and the LASPAU office in Cambridge, Massachusetts, to view applicant records the day they are submitted and to communicate electronically with applicants.

Applications should be submitted electronically no later than Tuesday, May 2, 2007 (no late applications will be entertained). Applicants should carefully follow the instructions provided at the web address. Once you have submitted your application, you can return to the online application website to check the status of your application and verify that any supplemental documents you provide have been received.

If you have any questions regarding the Fulbright/LASPAU Faculty Development Program, please contact Mrs. Angella Harvey, Cultural Affairs Specialist at 702-6113 or Mrs. Bernadette Hutchinson, Cultural Affairs Assistant at 702-6209, in the Embassy’s Office of Public Affairs.
