

"As guardians of our future, let us work together to ensure that our successors will inherit, as we have from the founders and early leaders of this University, an institution of which they can be truly proud"

CONCLUSION

This document summarizes the accomplishments of the last four years and signals those areas of focus for the current academic year. To provide an additional source of assessment, we used the Mid-term Review of the Strategic Plan to corroborate the view of the campus that it had successfully undertaken the programme of transformation and re-positioning.

It might seem superfluous to add, but it would be important to stress, that this was a collective effort of the campus' management team, faculty, staff and students. We received the unwavering support of the two Vice Chancellors under whom this plan evolved, the Council, member Governments and especially the Government of Jamaica, the alumni and our corporate and individual benefactors.
