

DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

Professor Paulette A. Ramsay, PhD UWI
Head of Department

INTRODUCTION

The Department continued to function/operate in keeping with the broad strategic goals established for 2011–2017 along with other additions (iv and v).

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES / GOALS 2016–2017

- (i) Curriculum Strengthening and Review
- (ii) Collaboration with International Partners / Internationalisation of Department
- (iii) Expanding research output and increasing number of graduate students
- (iv) Greater emphasis also placed on: Outreach to the Community
- (v) Research and Publication: Encourage junior staff to publish and conduct research

COMMENCEMENT WORKSHOP (2016–2017)

On August 19th 2016, the Department conducted a one-day workshop to address important matters designed to attain these goals.

Among the matters discussed were:

- (i) Regulation 19 – designed to improve attendance
- (ii) Examination matters – failure rates, etc.
- (iii) Mentoring of Undergraduates
- (iv) Outreach Programmes
- (v) Study Abroad / Exchange Programmes
- (vi) The Status of Graduate Programmes in the Department
- (vii) Teaching on Fridays
- (viii) Academic Advising of Undergraduates and Graduates
- (ix) Research and Publishing and Open Access Journals
- (x) Problems with the co-ordination of courses

STAFFING MATTERS

Semester I

- Dr. Jeffrey Gonzalez joined the Spanish section in June 2016. His expected duties included the teaching of Spanish to Undergraduates and the Coordination of the M.A. in Translation, as well as teaching in this programme.
- Mrs Rona Barnett-Passard unexpectedly requested no-pay leave.
- Two Chinese Volunteers arrived to teach at the Confucius Institute.

Semester II

- Dr. Gonzalez tendered his resignation effective December 31, 2016.
- Mr. Robinson Alvarado arrived in January as the new ICETEX Volunteer, through the bilateral agreement with the Government of Colombia. His arrival was delayed due to Work Permit issues.

CHALLENGES

- Mrs. Rona Barnett-Passard did not return for the commencement of the new academic year and this created serious challenges for the French Section, since Dr Cévaër was not replaced while on Sabbatical. She (Mrs. Barnett-Passard) requested no-pay leave and several part-time persons were identified to fill the teaching slots created by her absence.
- In Semester II, special arrangements were quickly made to cover the challenges created by Dr. Gonzalez' resignation.
- The Graduate Programme Courses in Literature was affected by the Department of Literatures in English's temporary suspension of their taught courses. Even though we were appropriately advised by the HOD, Dr. Michael Bucknor, it still created some difficulty. The problem was solved by initiating, for the very first time, a cross-departmental collaboration with St. Augustine's Department of Modern Languages and Literatures via Zoom. St. Augustine was extremely collegial and supportive and the students enjoyed the course on the Testimonial Novel. Hopefully we will be able to repeat this collaboration, even as we resume that arrangement with the Department of Literatures in English.
- Failure to repair the AC Units in the Language Laboratory severely affected the teaching of language courses. The lab was hot and uncomfortable, the repairs began late and to date, some matters have not been given attention.

QAR – ASSESSMENT AND REPORT

- The Department has finished all actions and activities in response to the QAR Review of the Asian Languages related to:
 - Curriculum – Minors completed for Chinese and Japanese
 - Staffing matters – One (1) new Instructor employed
 - Study Abroad – On-going promotion of Study Abroad
- The QAR Report for Romance Languages will be finalised at Academic Board this June.

NUMBERS IN THE DEPARTMENT

| PRELIMINARY SPANISH COURSES | | | |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------|
| Course Codes | Number of Students enrolled | | |
| | Semester I | Semester II | TOTAL |
| SPAN0101/Beginner's | 178 + 25 WJC* (7 groups) | 79 (3 groups) | 282 |
| SPAN1000/Intermediate | 80 (4 groups) | 77 + 8 WJC* (4 groups) | 165 |

* WJC = UWI Mona Western Jamaica Campus

TOTAL PRELIMINARY SPANISH COURSES → 282 + 165 = 447

| HOSPITALITY SPANISH COURSES | | | |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------|--------------|
| Course Codes | Number of Students enrolled | | |
| | Semester I | Semester II | TOTAL |
| SPAN 2008 | 26 | – | 26 |
| SPAN 2108 | – | 29 | 29 |

TOTAL HOSPITALITY SPANISH COURSES → 26 + 29 = 55

| SPANISH LEVELS I, II AND III | |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Level I Language = 130 | Level I Literature = 41 |
| Level II Language = 42 | Level II Literature = 10 |
| Level III Language = 61 | Level III Literature = 29 |
| TOTAL = 233 | TOTAL = 80 |

SPANISH COURSES → GRAND TOTAL = 447 + 55 + 233 + 80 = 815

Department of Modern Languages and Literatures

| PRELIMINARY FRENCH COURSES | | | |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------|-------------|-------|
| Course Codes | Number of Students enrolled | | |
| | Semester I | Semester II | TOTAL |
| FREN0001/Basic | | | 95 |
| FREN0101/Beginner's | | | 117 |
| FREN1000/Intermediate | | | 100 |

TOTAL PRELIMINARY FRENCH COURSES → 95 + 117 + 100 = 312

| FRENCH LEVELS I, II AND III | |
|-----------------------------|--------------------------|
| Level I Language = 55 | Level I Literature = 26 |
| Level II Language = 28 | Level II Literature = 17 |
| Level III Language = 32 | Level III Literature = 7 |
| TOTAL = 115 | TOTAL = 50 |

FRENCH COURSES → GRAND TOTAL = 312 + 115 + 50 = 477

The numbers indicate that literature consistently has lower numbers than language. Several strategies are being devised to improve the numbers in literature. Similarly, there is need for more students, especially in French to move into Levels I, II and II from the Intermediate Courses.

| PRELIMINARY PORTUGUESE PROGRAMMES | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|-------|
| Course Codes | Number of Students enrolled | TOTAL |
| PORTO 0101/Beginner's | 45 | 45 |

| JAPANESE LEVELS I, II AND III | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Level I Language = 109 | |
| Level II Language = 55 | Level II Japanese History Course = 16 |
| Level III Language = 29 | |
| TOTAL = 193 | TOTAL = 16 |

| CHINESE LEVELS I, II AND III | |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| Level I Language = 105 + 18 (WJC) = 123 | |
| Level II Language = 42 | Level II Chinese Culture Course = 19 |
| Level III Language = 22 | |
| TOTAL = 187 | TOTAL = 19 |

GRAND TOTAL → ALL LANGUAGE COURSES = 1,720

The numbers indicate that literature consistently has lower numbers than language courses, even though these numbers continue to improve. Several strategies are being devised to continue improving the numbers in literature.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Spanish Language Immersion Trip to Cuba

A group of students and two members of Academic staff will be participating in a Spanish Language Immersion/Cultural Programme from June 2–June 16, 2017, as part of an exchange between the University of Guantanamo, Cuba and the Department of Modern Languages & Literatures.

Graduate Research Seminars

In response to requests from a number of Graduate Students, the Department with the assistance of Research Assistant, Miss Dejon Lingo, arranged a number of special seminars for our Graduate Students. These were aimed at responding to some of the questions that some students still have regarding their theses. These seminars were facilitated by a number of lecturers – Dr. Marie-José N'zengou-Tayo and Dr. Nina Bruni. Students expressed positive comments about the Seminars. Topics discussed included:

Department of Modern Languages and Literatures

- (i) “The Literature Review” – Thursday, March 9 from 5–7 p.m. – Postgraduate Learning Commons (PGLC) Seminar Room, Main Library. Facilitators – Dr. Marie-José N’zengou-Tayo and Dr. Nina Bruni.
- (ii) “Information Literacy” including Database Searching, Plagiarism and Endnote – Wednesday, March 22 from 5:00–7:00 p.m. – Postgraduate Learning Commons (PGLC) Computer Lab, Main Library. Facilitator – Mrs. Frances Salmon.

Distinguished Lecture

On April 12, 2017, the Department established a Distinguished Lecture series in honour of two past members of the Departments of French and Spanish respectively. The special Guest Speaker was Dr. Elizabeth Wilson who spoke very engagingly on the topic: “Literature and Activism, Literature as Activism: Case Studies from Caribbean Women’s Writing in French.” The event was well attended by persons from inside and outside of the campus and also included the participation of Undergraduate students from the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures.

Book Launch – Dewdrop by Dr. Courtney Hogarth

On the 23rd of March 2017 at 6:30 p.m., the Department launched the debut book Dewdrop of Dr. Courtney Hogarth in the Multifunctional Room, Main Library. Guest Speaker, Dr. Velma Pollard launched the book and Professor Paulette Ramsay chaired the event that was well attended and commended by those in attendance.

Japan Foundation Visit

The Department received and facilitated representatives of the Japan Foundation who conducted workshops on difficult grammatical areas with students in January in the Language laboratory in late January. Their contribution is highly appreciated.

Book Launch – Professor Paulette Ramsay’s book: Afro-Mexican Constructions of Diaspora, Gender, Identity and Nation (UWI, 2016)

The Department of Modern Languages & Literatures launched Professor Paulette Ramsay’s book: Afro-Mexican Constructions of Diaspora, Gender, Identity and Nation, in collaboration with the Embassy of Mexico and the UWI Press, on Friday, October 14th, 2016. The launch was well-attended and well-received by those in attendance.

Symposium on Afro-Mexico (October 2016)

The Department of Modern Languages & Literatures in collaboration with the Embassy of Mexico hosted a Symposium on Afro-Mexico on October 14th, 2016 in N1. Father Glyn-Jemmott-Nelson, Dr. María Elisa Velázquez Gutiérrez, President, International Scientific Committee of the Slave Route Project, UNESCO and Mr. Pedro Sergio Peñalosa Perez, President of México Negro were specially invited guest speakers for the Symposium.

Afro-Mexican Photographic Exhibition (Month of October 2016)

The Department mounted a Photographic Exhibition on Afro-Mexico from October 14th–October 30th in the Main Library and N1 respectively. The Photographic Exhibition was officially launched by the Mexican Ambassador, H.E. Martha Cecilia Jaber on October 14 and the Exhibition ran until the end of October.

SPECIAL VISITS

Visit of Team from University of Guantanamo, Cuba

Dr. Eliezer Brooks visited the Department for two weeks in September 2016. Dr. Brooks spoke to students and investigated the possibility of collaboration with the Department.

Following the signing of an MOU for students and faculty exchange with the International Students’ Office (ISO), Dr. Eliezer Brooks, Dr.

Gilberto Ramirez and Dr. Alberto Biggerstaff, Lecturers from the University of Guantanamo, Cuba, were invited by the International Students' Office to visit the UWI in February for two weeks, through a Special Collaboration between the International Students' Office and the Office of Students' Services regarding the development of a student mobility programme and other joint projects. They participated in Spanish Conversation classes and visited with different persons in the Sports Section, ISO and the Department of MLL.

Representative from the Organisation of American States (OAS)
Visit to the UWI

Professor Paulette Ramsay met with the OAS Region Representative, Mrs. Jeanelle van Glaanen Weygel, on Thursday, May 4 at 11:00 am to discuss future collaborations with the Department.

Visit with Counsellor from Embassy of Japan

Visit of Mr. Shinichi Yamanaka from the Embassy of Japan to discuss the Japanese Language Programme on Thursday, May 4 at 2:00 pm.

ANNUAL EVENTS

Modern Languages and Literatures Day – Thursday, March 23, 2017

This was supported by more than thirty-five (35) High Schools and four (4) Prep and Primary schools. Three hundred and fifty students (350) were in attendance at the event. Members of the Diplomatic Corps provided the usual support with representatives from the Embassy of the Dominican Republic and the Embassy of Japan participating by delivery of words. Activities included: CXC practice sessions, Salsa demonstrations, Prep School Children's Corner, French/Spanish/Chinese Online Games, Chinese Calligraphy demonstrations, Spanish Sing Along and a Mega Concert that showcased the foreign language talents of our UWI students across the five languages (Chinese, French, Japanese, Portuguese, Spanish) being offered in the Department.

The event was very successful. The Department also received financial support in the amount of JMD$700,000 from the Culture, Health, Arts, Sports and Education (CHASE) Fund to offset costs for the event.

Final Year Sensitization – Tuesday, November 15, 2016

This has been established in the last 6 years through the instrumentality of Dr. Lindy Jones. This year's programme was entitled "Final Year Sensitization: My Next Move". Topics presented to students included Graduate Studies and You, Graduate Scholarships – Study Abroad Programmes, Job Opportunities, Foreign Service and the Graduate Student Experience. Presentations were done by persons from different areas of the University such as Ms. Hermine Tyrell from the International Students' Office.

Staff / Student Liaison Meeting

This is usually done towards the end of the semester. There was one for each semester.

1. Students praised Lecturers' / Instructors' delivery across most courses. They also spoke favourably of some Lecturers' / Instructors' availability and helpfulness.
2. Students across the Department expressed dissatisfaction with a number of matters:
 - i. Some headphones in the labs that do not function.
 - ii. Classes that begin at 8 o'clock present difficulties for the students who live off-campus.
 - iii. Students in some Spanish Language Courses complained about the heavy workload in their courses and the frequency of testing.

All of these matters will be addressed in our July 2017 retreat.

CAPE Foreign Languages Workshop – Saturday, April 8, 2017

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures held its annual

CAPE Workshop on 8th April 2017. Fifty-six Sixth-form students from eleven schools across the island participated. The Department is seriously using this as a dual-purpose project – important outreach/drive for recruiting new students.
