

Academic Standing Guide

If your Semester GPA falls below 2.00 while you are on Academic Probation, you will be placed on Academic Suspension and required to sit out for one semester. Although this may delay your academic progress and graduation, it is not the end of your academic journey.

We are committed to helping you get back on track. Meet with your Department Academic Advisor or the Faculty Student Success Officer without delay to develop a plan for your successful return to Good Standing.

If your next Semester GPA remains below 2.00 after receiving an Academic Warning, you will be placed on Academic Probation, and your course load will be restricted to 6 or 9 credits, depending on your enrolment status.

Although this setback may leave you feeling disappointed or discouraged, you do not have to face it alone. Reach out to your Department Academic Advisor or the Faculty Student Success Officer for guidance, support, and a plan to help you return to Good Standing.

If your Semester GPA falls below 2.00 for the first time, you will be placed on Academic Warning. Don't panic. The Faculty offers a range of services and resources to support your success.

Take time to reflect, refocus, and reach out to your Department Academic Advisor or the Faculty Student Success Officer. They can help you develop a plan for improvement and support your return to Good Standing.

If your Semester GPA consistently remains at 2.00 or above, you will maintain Good Standing, a clear sign that you are making strong academic progress.

Congratulations! Keep up the great work. Every successful semester brings you closer to graduation and your academic and career goals. Check out the Tiger Tips below to help you stay on track.
